

HANGED HIMSELF IN A CELL.

Hunter Made a Slip Noose Out of a Leather Strap.

Under Arrest for Trying to Break Into His Fiancee's House.

Thomas Hunter, a laborer, twenty-four years old, of 144 Cherry street, committed suicide by hanging himself in a cell of the Madison street police station, at midnight last night. He was under arrest for disorderly conduct.

At 9 o'clock Policeman McCarthy was called to the tenement-house at 144 Cherry street by Maria Lyons. She looked out of an upper window and shouted:

"Officer, there is a ruffian at my door. Won't you arrest him?"

The woman is known as "Big Mag" in the neighborhood, and she and Hunter were to have been married next week. Last night Hunter got drunk, and when he went to call on Marie she slammed the door in his face. He thereupon procured an axe and said there would be trouble in the house. The policeman arrested him as he stood before the woman's door ready to break it down.

When locked up in the station Hunter said it was too warm, and he didn't think he would stay in the station all night. Doorman James Kerrigan made his rounds at 11:30 o'clock, and Hunter asked for a match. He wanted to smoke his pipe.

Shortly after midnight when the doorman went to inspect the cells again he found Hunter hanging by a leather strap to the door. He was dead. He had made a slip-noose of the buckle and end of the strap, and tied the other end to an upper bar of the cell door. In order to strangle himself he had to lift his feet from the floor. An ambulance was at once summoned from Gouverneur Hospital, but the surgeon said the man must have been dead ten minutes before he was cut down. It is not known that he has any relatives in the city, and his body was taken to the morgue.

SUICIDE WITH A REVOLVER.

Merman Boernig, a Saloon-keeper, Was Despondent by Illness.

Despondent because of ill-health, Herman Boernig, a saloon-keeper, forty-eight years old, of 309 East One Hundred and Sixth street, committed suicide by shooting himself in the left temple in his bedroom at 7 o'clock this morning. Boernig had for some time been suffering from rheumatism and malaria. When compelled to remain in bed his wife, Annie, would attend to the business. The couple lived over the saloon. This morning Mrs. Boernig cut down stairs to clean up the place. After she had been in the saloon for half an hour, she was startled to see red stains appearing on the ceiling.

She rushed upstairs and found her husband lying on the floor dead, his head resting in a pool of blood. A revolver by his side. No one had heard the shot, although half a dozen tenants live in apartments over the saloon.

A year ago Boernig bought the saloon and sublet the apartments over his place of business. The top floor was rented to a lodge, which moved out yesterday afternoon. This seemed to worry Boernig. His wife said this morning that he slept but little all night, and she heard him moan

EICHNER HANGED HIMSELF.

Despondent from Protracted Illness, the Tailor Took His Life.

Frederick Eichner, a tailor thirty-eight years old, of 188 Second avenue, committed suicide early this morning by hanging himself with a piece of binder twice in the basement of the house where he lived.

He was a widower with one child, a girl nine years old. John, an eighteen-year-old nephew lived with him. Eichner had been sick a long time, and had spent his savings paying doctors' bills. He was despondent when he went to bed last night. Kissing his child and nephew he said:

"Good-by, I'll be dead to-morrow." He dressed himself in his best black suit and carefully arranged his collar and necktie. Then he stole downstairs to the basement where he hanged himself. His body was found by Charles Gelfink, a tenant.

Eichner had a policy of the Metropolitan Insurance Company.

HANGED WITH A GARDEN HOSE

A Despondent Man Finds Death Through Peculiar Means.

Coroner Creamer, of Williamsburg, is today investigating a suicide where a garden hose was used to destroy life.

Peter Halzner, fifty-one years old, of 522 North Second street, had been out of work for a long time, and had become despondent. He left the house at 4 P. M. yesterday, telling his wife he was going to look for work.

As he did not return, the woman went to look for him, and found him suspended by a piece of hose from a beam in the woodshed.

BROKER PHILLIPS SECLUDED.

The Would-be Suicide Is Probably in a Sanitarium.

Francis J. A. Phillips, the stock broker who attempted suicide at New Haven yesterday by twice throwing himself in front of trains, returned to this city last night, in company with Mr. Currie, of C. A. Harned & Co.

It is thought he has been placed in some private medical institution, to be treated for nervous prostration. His friends, however, decline to say where he is.

At Mr. Harned's office, in the Mills Building, it was said this morning that while Mr. Phillips was greatly improved he was still a sick man, and would require a great deal of care.

A MYSTERY OF ST. LOUIS.

Remnant Only Ten Days Dead, but Missing Since Jan. 1.

ST. LOUIS, June 13.—George Remmert, a porter, disappeared on Jan. 1 after a conversation with his employer on personal business. Yesterday his body was discovered in the river. The body had not been in the water over ten days, and the condition of his clothing increases the mystery surrounding his disappearance.

The day he was on the day when he was last seen were almost new, and neither those found on the body nor the condition of his clothing show any signs of increased wear. His friends and the police are mystified as to where he could have been between the date of his disappearance and the time when he fell or was thrown into the river.

YUNG FONG'S ENEMY HELD.

Policeman Donegan Must Answer for an Alleged Assault.

Yung Fong, the Chinese laundryman, who charges unprovoked assault on the part of Policeman Frank S. Donegan, of the Union Market station, appeared against the policeman in the Harlem Police Court this morning.

Yung Fong, who was charged with assaulting the policeman, was discharged by Justice Koch, in the Essex Market Court, yesterday, and was advised to prefer charges against Donegan. After consulting with Supt. Byrne, he got a warrant at Harlem Court for Donegan's arrest. The latter appeared this morning, accompanied by his lawyer, Benjamin Baker.

Yung Fong was accompanied by the assistant rector of the Trinity Church, Madison avenue, Harlem, and several connected with the Chinese mission attached to that church were also present to clam Yung Fong's cause.

After much parleying, Justice Sims held Donegan in $100 bail for examination Friday, and paroled him in the custody of his counsel to ensure bail.

Two Cases of Small-Pox.

Two persons with small-pox were removed to North River Island this morning. They are Mary Powers, eight weeks old, of 21 Bovey, and Charles Jackson, homeless, who walked into Chambers Street Hospital yesterday.

Wire News in Brief.

S. C. Girard, a Tampa, Fla., business man, was struck on the temple yesterday by a baseball and soon died.

John Duffy, a porter, was shot and seriously wounded by Henry Lenke, aged 37, at Boston yesterday.

The firm of Drury, Nield & Co., of Suburb, Ont., has gone into liquidation. Liabilities, $500,000, assets, $100,000.

A clouding of the mandamalus and writs that night did great damage to fruit, and flooded streets and cellars.

NOT COACHED; CLASSIFIED.

Vandertown Replies to Charges of Instructing Immigrants.

Steering Passengers' Alleged Posting on Ellis Island Catechism.

It was reported this morning that Dr. Sinner, United States Commissioner of Immigration, will present to the Congressional Committee, which is to begin holding sessions on Ellis Island Saturday, two affidavits, which charge that the Netherlands-American Steamship company is evading the immigration laws by "coaching" immigrants what to say to the inspectors on landing.

The affidavits are by Joseph Boyle, of 33 Hampshire street, Buffalo, and J. R. Lee, of Mechanicsville, Ia. They say that while passengers in the steerage of the steamship Amsterdam, which arrived here last Monday morning, they witnessed the formation of the immigrants into classes by an instructor.

who drilled them into saying that they had $20 or more, that they had paid their own fare, and, above all, that they were not hired by anybody to do labor in the United States.

General Agent Vandertown, of the Netherlands-American line, laughed at these charges when seen by reporters this morning, and said that Commissioner Sinner himself had requested that classes similar to those described in the affidavits should be formed.

"Of course," he added, "the object of these classes is different from what the makers of the affidavits believed them to be. Each immigrant is issued a tax showing by letter and number to what group he belongs. The tags correspond with the numbers on the manifest, and, no doubt, it was this point that gave rise to the misapprehension on the part of the makers of the affidavits."

"The manifest, which is filled out by the United States Consul at the point of departure, contains the very questions which Boyle and Lee say they heard the immigrants coached in. These questions were probably merely repeated from the manifest in the course of instructing the immigrants to keep together in their respective groups."

Capt. Warrs Thought to Be Dying.

Police Capt. Warrs, of the Elizabeth street station, who has been sick for several days at his home, 550 Lexington avenue, is much worse this morning. He is unconscious, and is not expected to live through the afternoon.

Flood-Bound Passengers Arrive.
